Threat of Soviet Intervention Grows When Nipponese Move Into Russian Territory and Occupy Rail Station.

TOKYO AWAITING NANKING'S REPLY

Chen Predicts U. S. Ultimate Foe of Japs; 'State of Emergency' Is Declared in Shanghai.

By the Associated Press.
Grave developments heightened the Sino-Japanese tension in China and Manchuria today.

At Shanghai, when Japanese occupation was impending, 13 new Japanese warships arrived to menace the Chinese city with their guns, and 500 additional marines were landed.

Authorities in the International settlement of Shanghai declared a "state of emergency" at noon.

So serious was the situation that American Consul General, Edwin S. Cunningham, warned Americans living outside of the international settlement to be prepared to move quickly within its limits.

A new possibility that Russia might be drawn into conflict was seen in the Japanese report, received at Chungking, that Chinese troops had occupied the Kwangchow station of the Chinese Eastern railroad, jointly owned by China and Russia.

The Japanese consulate general at Shanghai was bombed today, but with no damage save for the breaking of a few windows.

While the United States and Great Britain gave "serious consideration" to the controversy at Shanghai, the Chinese authorities of that important port prepared the way today for capital flight to Tokyo's ultimatum.

Chinese sources in Shanghai said the municipal government had ordered that the National Salvation Society be closed. The society was one of the leaders in the boycott that has cost the Japanese heavily in the Pacific and the way to it was war with America.

British and American marines in Shanghai put up barbed-wire barricades along the international settlement boundaries and prepared to take over the defense of the area.

Tokyo reported that if the Shanghai controversy turned out satisfactorily, Japan might demand that anti-Japanese societies be suppressed throughout China.

Direct U. S. Jobless Aid Urged by A. F. of L. Head

William Green Asserts 8,300,000 Are Unemployed and Only Federal Government Can Cope With Situation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—An urgent call for direct federal aid to the unemployed was sounded tonight by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor. He estimated the number out of work at 8,300,000.

"Only one agency—the federal government—can meet the relief problem now that all other resources have been proved inadequate," he said in a formal statement. "By taxation it can distribute the burden of this year where it can be borne with least injury to our citizenship."

Green said a conservative estimate placed the probable average unemployed throughout 1932 at between 6,000,000 and 7,000,000, and that between $3,500,000,000 and $5,700,000,000 will be necessary to feed, clothe and house those out of work "even at bare subsistence levels."

Meanwhile, plans went forward in both branches of congress for early action on the administration-opposed La Follette-Costigan measure to appropriate $375,000,000 from the federal treasury for relief work.

Senator La Follette awaited a chance to bring up the measure for a Senate vote. Democrats have asked, however, that it go over until Monday to give them opportunity to study the bill. There are reports they are contending offering a substitute providing for loans to states to meet unemployment needs.

In the house, the labor committee directed a subcommittee headed by Representative Jacobson (democrat—

PRESIDENT DENIES HE HAS NEW PLAN TO ASSIST COTTON

Wrong Interpretation Is Placed on Telegrams to Russell and Other Governors, Statement Says.

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Contrary to the interpretation placed on telegraphic communications yesterday to Governor Richard B. Russell Jr., of Georgia, and the executives of two other southern states, President Hoover was revealed today not to have any new plan for dealing with the cotton situation.

The suggestion of a new cotton plan was contained in messages sent to the governors of Georgia, North Carolina and Alabama by Senator Ellison D. Smith, of South Carolina, who held out prospects for retiring some 8,000,000 bales of cotton from the market if the three states mentioned would give proper assurance to the administration of a cotton curtailment plan similar to that already adopted by Texas.

The South Carolina senator proposed that the three governors come to Washington for a conference with the president on the subject.

Word came from the White House today that the president's position had been misunderstood. Mr. Hoover, it was stated, had not proposed any new plan for dealing with the cotton situation. He had merely committed himself to any definite plan of action on the part of the various state legislatures, feeling that for him to do so would be tantamount to too much interference with state affairs.

Urges Curtailment Program.
The president's position is repeated in a letter to the governors of the three states and the federal farm board will be better able to carry their present holdings if a general average curtailment program is adopted throughout the cotton-producing states. While willing to lead government co-operation in a program to aid cotton prices here is little, however, the administration can do in the premises, it is asserted.

The 8,000,000 bales referred to by Senator Smith does not take into account more than 100,000 bales of new cotton. Already the farm board and the cotton co-operatives have on hand some 3,700,000 bales, acquired through the last year's stabilization effort last year and the year before. A similar amount is said to be held by private banking institutions who have loans to cotton producers' holding for improved prices. Neither the board nor the private bankers will be affected by the curtailment.

Tears, Laughter, Inveective Mingled As Sunday Show Head Goes on Trial

Recorder A. W. Callaway hearing Mrs. M. Margeson enter a plea of not guilty to charges of violating the Atlanta ordinance against Sunday moving picture shows. H. A. Allen, who assisted Walter A. BY ROY ROBERT.
Human emotions were unleashed to bring tears, laughter and invective before Recorder A. W. Callaway in police court Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. M. H. Margeson, supervisor of the women's sewing room of the emergency relief committee, was tried on two charges of violating the city ordinance against Sunday moving picture shows.

After more than two hours of testimony the case was adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning when prosecuting and defense lawyers will begin arguments. If she is convicted on the charges, Mrs. Margeson will be subject to $200 in fines and 30 days in prison, at the discretion of the recorder.

Mrs. Margeson was arraigned on two cases made by Chief of Police James L. Beavers for operating a motion picture and vaudeville show at the Paramount theater Sunday afternoon. She was charged formally with violating sections 3131 and 888 of the Atlanta code.

Court Attorney James L. Mayson brought the case before the recorder, and Mrs. Margeson, through her attorneys, Walter A. Sims, former mayor of Atlanta, and H. A. Allen, entered a plea of not guilty. Attorney Mayson was assisted by Carlton W. Binn and Frank A. Hooper Jr., employed by a committee of laymen and ministers headed by Dr. W. H. Faust, pastor of Gordon Street Baptist church. Seldom has the old and dingy police court housed so distinguished a gathering of citizens—there to act as witnesses in a question which has divided Atlanta, and there to see and hear the proceedings. Ministers and professional men, society leaders and club members, businessmen and capitalists were present to rub elbows with un-

MOTHER SHOTS DAUGHTER, SELF

Prominent Cordele Woman Ends Life After Killing Daughter.

CORDELE, Ga., Jan. 27.—(AP)—Apparently in a fit of despondency, Mrs. Bessie Walters Marshall, 50-year-old Cordele resident, last night shot and fatally wounded her daughter, Mrs. Frank Barwick, 24, of Youngstown, Ohio, and then killed herself.

Friends of the family said she had been in ill health and had grieved much because her daughter and Mr. Barwick planned to leave today to return to their home in Ohio.

Last night members of the family heard shots in the bathroom of the Marshall residence. Mrs. Barwick had been shot in the back as she leaned over a lavatory washing her hands. She was killed instantly. Mrs. Marshall shot herself and died shortly afterwards.

The mother was regarded as an expert shot and shooting was her hobby. The bullets which took her life and that of the daughter were fired from a pistol which Mr. Marshall had given her shortly after their marriage many years ago.

Mrs. Marshall and her daughter were unusually devoted. Mr. and Mrs. Barwick came here recently to be with the mother, who was suffering from a recent illness. The mother had recently returned home from a hospital at Plains, Ga.

The daughter was a popular member of Cordele society and was one of the most beautiful young women in this city.

No inquest was held. Funeral services were conducted at the Cordele cemetery Wednesday afternoon.

Surviving Mrs. Marshall are her husband, an employee of the railway express agency here; a sister, Mrs. Mary Marshall, of Youngstown, Ohio.

KIDNAPERS FREE INDIANA VICTIM

Manufacturer Returned Safely to His Home in South Bend.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Jan. 27.—(UP)—Howard A. Woolverton, 52, wealthy industrialist, returned to his home unharmed shortly before midnight tonight just 24 hours after he had been kidnapped and held for $50,000 ransom.

Woolverton apparently had suffered no ill effects from his abduction, one of the most sensational of a series that has brought $1,000,000 in ransom to a Midwest kidnap band.

The industrialist immediately went into conference with his family and attorneys. It was impossible to learn at once whether a ransom had been paid or promised.

Woolverton, a 52-year-old manufacturer and prominent in South Bend social circles, was abducted Tuesday night with his wife, Mrs. Florence Woolverton, while returning home from the theater. Mrs. Woolverton was released after she had been handed a note directing her to meet the ransom demand by 8 o'clock Wednesday night.

The note given her by the kidnapers directed that she bring the money in her car to Chicago Heights, Ill., Wednesday night. She was told that when a car following her machine gave a signal by flashing its headlights she should drop the money on the pavement.

The mother was regarded as an expert shot and shooting was her hobby. The bullets which took her life and that of the daughter were fired from a pistol which Mr. Marshall had given her shortly after their marriage many years ago.

Mrs. Marshall and her daughter were unusually devoted. Mr. and Mrs. Barwick came here recently to be with the mother, who was suffering from a recent illness. The mother had recently returned home from a hospital at Plains, Ga.

MONEY IS VOTED FOR CREDIT GROUP

Administration Moves To Revise Glass Bill To Aid Depositors.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The huge Reconstruction Finance Corporation today received the money with which it will begin its work of resuscitating business, but was told it must wait until tomorrow for formal Senate approval of the men who will guide its activities.

President Hoover signed an appropriation bill giving the agency $500,000,000 to lend to railroads, agriculture and financial institutions. Meanwhile, Senator Blaine, of Wisconsin, forced a day's postponement of Senate action on the bill by introducing a resolution to appoint a committee to study the economic situation, that of extending help to the depositors of closed banks. A bill proposed by Senator Glass, democrat, Virginia, to accomplish this and bring about widespread changes in the banking laws was returned to a subcommittee for overhaul. The administration wants it extensively revised. Features which some felt would counteract the present drive to end deflation were the special aspect of the new study.

Senator Glass agreed to some of the technical modifications urged and expressed confidence tonight that the measure would soon be before the Senate.

Moves have been made to put ahead for emergency action that provision of the Glass bill creating a liquidating corporation for relief of those with money in closed banks and this is

Prince of Wales Heckled On British Indian Policy

LONDON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The Prince of Wales was heckled by a group of women tonight when he addressed 10,000 boys and girls in Albert Hall at a meeting arranged by the National Council for Social Service.

The prince was speaking of British interests abroad when the women shouted, "Withdraw the forces from India!" He ignored the interruption and went on with his address.

FORTESCUE CASE INDICTMENTS HIT

HONOLULU, Jan. 27.—(AP)—A motion picture to quash the second-degree murder indictment against Mrs. Granville Fortescue and three navy men accused of slaying a suspected woman attacker was filed today by defense attorneys, who charged the grand jury with being coerced in its activities by Circuit Judge A. M. Cristy.

The motion picture Judge Cristy had refused to accept a report from the investigating body last Friday in which "no bills" were voted against Mrs. Fortescue, Lieutenant Thomas H. Massie and two navy enlisted men, E. J. Lord and Albert O. Jones.

Four are accused of abduction and slaying Joseph Kahahawai, young Hawaiian, charged with attacking Mrs. Massie in September.

After refusing to accept the "no bills" verdict, Judge Cristy today announced that he had accepted the indictments against the four.

REGULATION ASKED ON FOREIGN LOANS

Close Federal Supervision on Such Credits Is Sought by Johnson.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—With an assertion that "shameful practices" in the flotation of foreign loans in America had been revealed, Senator Johnson today introduced legislation to bring such credits under close federal supervision and restriction.

The California republican, at whose behest the senate finance committee has been investigating foreign security marketing here, presented two bills to establish a board with control over the loans and to require public reports on all such credits.

The "foreign loan board," as it would be called, would supervise all negotiations between American banks and foreign governments seeking to borrow money in this country. Loans would be made to the secretary of commerce.

The finance committee's investigation was concluded today with the receipt of a mass of evidence regarding Latin-American loans by American banks.

The outstanding development was testimony that the Chase National bank had received $10,000,000 in loans from the government of Mexico.

Divided Authority at Prison Gives Captain Guard Control

BY L. A. FARRELL,
Staff Correspondent.
MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Jan. 27.—The bloodhounds which never could pick up the trail of Aubrey Smith, Abe Powers and Roy Gardner were back in their kennels today howling for bones the state doesn't supply, while officials of the state prison farm tried to explain the escape of the three desperadoes Monday night and stated last week.

Earlier in the day, before the state officers to report a capture or a clue. But the second day of their vacations passed and no word came from Smith, Powers, or Gardner and the officials of the prison were without a clue to Smith's partner in crime, Leiland Harvey, who, with Jack Martin, had been with his way out of the death cell last week.

The officials of the prison received without comment the statement of Governor Richard B. Russell Jr. that something was radically wrong at the institution and likewise had nothing to say regarding the official communication from the office of the prison commission at Atlanta, which stated that the three desperadoes were issued by the governor and the prison commission, Captain C. L. Proctor, acting warden, had de-

Legislators Point Out Appropriation Unchanged This Year; Governor Russell Leads Demand for Searching Quiz.

As the state prison commission Wednesday continued to deliberate over when it will open an investigation into the startling escapes of five desperadoes within a week, and with individuals and organizations pleading for extraordinary measures to check the dangers that follow in the wake of every break for liberty, members of the general assembly Wednesday were quick to disavow legislative indifference to the prison. They pointed out that the 1932 appropriation for the prison was exactly what it was in 1931.

BIBB LEADER ASKS NEW PRISON HEAD

Carlisle Says Superintendent Apparently Is Unable To Keep His Charges at State Farm.

As the state prison commission Wednesday continued to deliberate over when it will open an investigation into the startling escapes of five desperadoes within a week, and with individuals and organizations pleading for extraordinary measures to check the dangers that follow in the wake of every break for liberty, members of the general assembly Wednesday were quick to disavow legislative indifference to the prison. They pointed out that the 1932 appropriation for the prison was exactly what it was in 1931.

From Governor Russell down, the demand for "drastic action to cure evils which apparently exist at the prison" came appeals for an early and searching probe not only of circumstances surrounding the two breaks the past week, but into conditions reflected in a division of authority at the Milledgeville institution.

New Superintendent Asked.
"If the state prison commission employs a superintendent, it is his business to keep the prisoners there," said Representative Douglas Carlisle, of Bibb county, who was at the capital Wednesday. "It is apparent that he can't do it, and the remedy, it seems to me, is for the prison commission to get another superintendent."

While public interest from one end of the state to the other centered on the escapes that freed Leiland Harvey, Jack Martin, Roy Gardner and Abe Powers and Roy Gardner to prey on society again, the prison commission's only definite move, apart from making public its report, was to appoint a warden on the escapes last Friday morning and again Monday midnight, was to announce that the reward for the recapture of Aubrey Smith, Leiland Harvey and Roy Gardner had been raised from $50 to $100. No explanation was made as to the reason for boosting the price for Powers.

Russell Urges Measures.
Loath to make any statement concerning escapes, or other prison matters, until the commission had made its investigation, Governor Russell, because of the uncertainty of when the commission will begin its inquiry, issued the following statement:

"I do not think the mere discharge of some underlying guard is sufficient to prevent recurrence of these prison breaks in view of the fact that these prisoners have escaped numerous times before."

"It will require more drastic measures to cure evils which apparently exist at the prison. The governor of Georgia has no responsibility or control over the penal system of the state. I hope and trust, however, the prison commission will make a most thorough and searching investigation and that the results of that investigation will be made public."

McWhorter Sees System.
Senator Hamilton McWhorter, of Lexington, a member of the senate appropriations committee, expressed the opinion that if the state can't run the prison, it ought to abolish it. Senator Alpha A. Fowler, of Douglas county, another member of the appropriations committee, said Wednesday that he had no objection to the bill to prevent prisoners from escaping other than that included in the prison farm budget.

American Tobacco Votes Extra Dividend

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Directors of the American Tobacco Company today voted an extra dividend of $1 a share on the company's common and Class B shares.

In addition, the directors declared their usual quarterly dividend of $1.25 a share. Both payments will be made on March 1 to stock of record January 10.

This action follows within a week the declaration of an extra dividend by Liggett & Myers, another of the three large tobacco companies of this country.

Wisconsin Senate Favors Farm Aid

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 27.—(AP)—A farm relief act raising $5,000,000 in income taxes to reimburse farmers who receive for their products less than the cost of production was passed by the senate today by a vote of 21 to 9. It was introduced as a general eight-hour day bill which also was approved with exception for numerous classes of workers.

VERMONT DEMOCRATS ENDORSE ROOSEVELT

Smith Supporters Swing to New York Executive at Caucus.

BURLINGTON, Vt., Jan. 27.—(AP) The presidential candidacy of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, was endorsed by the Vermont democratic state committee in caucus here today.

The committee also decided to hold a state convention in Burlington May 15 for election of delegates to the democratic national convention.

She swung in sentiment to Roosevelt among Vermont democrats, who for years have been staunch Smith supporters, was explained by the leading democrats as due to a conviction Smith would not be a candidate for the presidency.

It was said unofficially after the meeting that only one member opposed endorsement of the Roosevelt candidacy, and that Governor Albert C. Ritchie, of Maryland, was a popular second choice.

ROOSEVELT IS SILENT

ON BAKER LEAGUE PLEA

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 27.—(UP) Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, asked to comment on the statement of Newton D. Baker urging elimination of the League of Nations from campaign issues this year, declined to make any official statement.

"Please try to make it clear," he said, "that I am not pussy-footing on this or any other question. But I say, literally, I have no time whatever to divert from the important business of New York state. If you will refer to my letter to the democrats of North Dakota, you can get my viewpoint."

"However, you may say that I thank you for calling this statement to my attention."

In the letter referred to, Roosevelt refused to be "diverted from state issues."

NEWSPAPER INTERPRETS

APPEAL BY BAKER

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The New York Times today interpreted Newton D. Baker's opposition to a League of Nations plank in the democratic platform as an effort, on his part, "to remove the chief obstacle to his eligibility for the democratic presidential nomination, regardless of whether he was willing to make any drive in opposition to Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, who at present is regarded in the lead."

MINGLE AT TRIAL

washed and bedraggled prisoners of another strata of life.

Within five minutes after the case was called, the usual dignity of the court gave way before the intense feeling which characterized the presentation of the case. Objection after objection from attorneys brought applause, angry statements and hilarity from the assemblage of witnesses and spectators.

Through two hours of bickering and contention, the case proceeded to the climax, Mrs. Margeson's plea. Through it all feeling had increased and tears were in the background, ready to spring. Mrs. Margeson was called to make her statement.

The murmur of excitement which greeted her appearance was stilled and with a calm voice she read from a typewritten statement. She denied any intention of wrongdoing, asserting she was only one of a "great body of people trying to do something to relieve the pitiful plight of distressed unemployed."

Before she had finished her voice broke, tears came to her eyes and she sobbed out the final words of her statement.

"I believe that if these people who are prosecuting me really knew of the misery, the suffering and the want that exist in our city they would withdraw their charges and let me help me—go on with the work. If they don't do that they are not the good ministers of the gospel I think they are."

Spontaneous Applause.

No drama, no plea of a Jeanne d'Arc or Florence Nightingale ever brought forth more spontaneous outburst of applause and zealous hysteria than the statement of Mrs. Margeson brought from them in sympathy with her defense. Court officials were powerless to halt the applause and following the ovation Recorder Callaway announced the adjournment until 10 o'clock this morning.

Preliminaries of the trial were completed amid the flash of photographers' lights and Chief Beavers was called as the first witness. Informality marked the place of legal dignity with the veteran chief's first few words—words which led to a flash of resentment from the gray-haired officer. Perhaps he made no effort to conceal his sympathy for Mrs. Margeson's cause, for a witness for the prosecution, his testimony digressed from the strictly legal points.

"The city of Atlanta charges admission on Sunday to places of amusement," he answered, "being, in a question of Attorney Mayson. The Cyclorama at Grant Park is a picture show and I keep officers there every Sunday to keep it open."

"The city charges admission to swimming pools and golf links on Sunday, and at Lakewood, where the concessions are under police protection, various amusement devices are run on Sunday."

T. H. Merritt and J. Frank Beck, chairman of the men's relief committee, testified formally that the Sunday show had been put on by Mr. Beck testified to buying a ticket for 50 cents and later "seeing a show that was decent but amateurish in spots," a statement which brought roars of laughter.

Relief Funds Exhausted.

Mrs. M. L. Johnson, employed by the relief committee as a sewing supervisor, said that she was now working without salary because the funds of the committee had been depleted. She asserted that upwards of 1,200 children had received shoes and clothing from Mrs. Margeson's organization.

Declaring that more than 1,000 children had been aided and that more than 2,000 unfilled applications had been received, she said, Mrs. J. R. Wakefield, chairman of the women's division of the relief machine, said that $825 had been taken in at the show Sunday. She offered receipts bills to show where the money had been spent for shoes and clothing supplies for suffering children.

Attorney Mayson sought to show Mrs. Margeson's organization had been cut off by the central organization, and a letter from Mrs. Margeson which declined a gift of $1,000 was read. The letter, addressed to W. E. Harrington, a relief official, said the women's group declined the Cumbersome Governments and Sales Taxes Attacked by Dodd in Speech Before C. of C.

An attack on obsolete and cumbersome forms of government and the resulting taxation, notably the sales tax and the tax on chain stores, was made Wednesday by Alvin Dodd, vice president of the Kroger Grocery and Baking Company, in a talk he made at the first 1932 open forum luncheon meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Dodd was formerly assistant to the president of Sears, Roebuck and Company, and prior to that time was director general of the Wholesale Dry Goods Institute. He was the first manager of domestic distribution department of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Dodd's subject Wednesday was "Shall Business Turn Tax Collector?" He said that federal taxes amounted to only a third of the country's tax burden, and were more wisely spent than the remaining two-thirds.

Sales Tax Dangerous.

He asserted that the sales tax was a dangerous form, and in many cases cost as much to collect as it raised. He drove in opposition to Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, who at present is regarded in the lead.

'Dead' Man Appears To Halt 'Own' Funeral

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 27.—(AP) Alarmed over published reports of his death, Robert N. Roberts, 53, halted funeral services today and convinced the city coroner that there had been a mistake.

The body of a man found in a vacant house Monday had been identified as that of Roberts, until recently a patient at Pine Camp City hospital.

The funeral hour was set, the grave was dug, flowers brought and a minister engaged to perform the services, when Roberts rushed in to halt the proceedings.

The body which almost received a Christian burial was in the city morgue tonight, where it will remain several days for possible identification.

The point of it is, though, as emphasized by southern members here today, very little new cotton is involved in the Smith suggestion, and practically all of the old cotton now held will be carried anyway.

The farm board and banks cannot afford to sell it if they wanted to.

A Southern senator who discussed the situation with the president today informed him that a cotton acreage reduction program would be carried out throughout the south, regardless of definite legislative action on the part of the individual states.

Estimates of the reduction in the current year crop were anywhere from one-third to one-half of last year's production.

Earlier in the day, Senator Vandenberg, republican, Michigan, came from the White House with the belief that the administration did favor his proposals to bring about "limiting inflation" or "counter deflation."

He wants the power of the federal reserve to accept certain paper in times of emergency broadened.

While confirmation of the three directors of the reconstruction corporation is assured, there is going to be some opposition to both Couch and Jones.

The nominees will be brought up tomorrow for approval. The president is still searching the northwest for the fourth member. He is looking for a lawyer. The man must be a democrat and the White House is seeking democratic aid in the selection.

It seems unlikely that a measure for relief of depositors of closed banks will get before the senate until early next week. The urgency for this was lessened considerably when provision was made in the reconstruction corporation legislation to permit loans to insolvent banks up to $200,000.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The appointment of a Georgia man to the remaining vacancy on the new two-billion dollar Reconstruction Finance Corporation was urged today by Senator Walter F. George.

Senator George is understood to have presented the names of several bankers and businessmen from the state who have been prominently mentioned. Previously he had urged W. J. Harris, of Georgia, had presented to the president, endorsements of those who have been proposed.

PRESIDENT DENIES HE HAS NEW PLAN TO ASSIST COTTON

willing to turn loose this cotton at present prices, because of the enormous losses that would be suffered.

What the president is understood to have in mind is that the banks and the farm board, including the co-ops, would be in better position to carry their present holdings if a general curtailment program were adopted.

Through the aid of the new $2,000,000,000 Reconstruction Finance Corporation the banks will probably be able to assist in carrying a million bales additional from the new crop.

The point of it is, though, as emphasized by southern members here today, very little new cotton is involved in the Smith suggestion, and practically all of the old cotton now held will be carried anyway.

KING OUSTER SUIT NEXT STEP FOR CYR

Long's Successor Declines To Vacate Offices Claimed by Dentist.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 24.—(AP)—An ouster suit against Alvin O. King, heir to Huey Long's governorship, was the next step on the program of Dr. Paul N. Cyr, fighting for the office on the claim that he was legally lieutenant governor at the time Long went into the United States senate.

Dr. Cyr left here early today for his home at Jeanerette and the suit was expected to be filed soon in the district court at Lake Charles, the home of King.

The suit will follow the formal refusal of King to vacate the executive mansion. In a letter replying to one from Cyr, King today said, "I respectfully decline to comply with your demand."

Decatur Jail Tscap Believed Captured

DeKalb county authorities Wednesday night were informed of the arrest in Knoxville, Tenn., of a man believed to be John McNabb, who escaped from the Decatur jail last November after sawing his way out of his cell, knocking one jailer unconscious with an iron bar and locking another in a cell. McNabb was being held on a charge of possessing burglary tools.

Knoxville dispatches said that a man who gave the name of A. O. Stanley, who was shot in the hip Sunday night while resisting arrest, was identified by a companion as McNabb. Upon the alleged identification the Tennessee authorities notified DeKalb county officials.

DeKalb officials Wednesday night had not decided upon sending to Knoxville to ascertain the identity of the suspect.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Railroad brotherhoods and unions expected tonight to have ready by tomorrow their answer to the proposal of a 10 per cent wage reduction for one year.

Three days' deliberation over concessions granted by the rail presidents and the arguments for and against the wage cut failed to result in agreement of the 21 labor groups. But David B. Robertson, spokesman for the unions, said the labor executives expected all to be in tomorrow.

Cheapest Feeling Prize Should Go to This Fellow

ROBINSON, Ill., Jan. 24.—(AP)—There's a fellow in this town who simply won't trust the banks. Everybody in the county, except him, received without excitement the news that the 11 banks in this vicinity had agreed to limit the withdrawal of deposits.

He walked into the bank where he kept his funds and loudly demanded his money. Officials hurried to look the matter up. Then they came back with this announcement: "Your account is overdrawn $5.52."

EPISCOPALIANS BACK OHIO CHURCH GROUP

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Protestant Episcopal churches of the Southern Ohio diocese will continue their financial support of the Ohio Council of Churches, the 58th annual diocesan convention decided today.

The action followed debate during which it was charged the council was "the tool of the Anti-Saloon League" and that the council sought to dictate in state politics.

Supporting continued membership in the council, Judge Harry Gram, of Springfield, said: "I see no reason why the Protestant Episcopal church should acquire the reputation of being so 'snooty' that it doesn't want to join other Christian bodies of this state. . . . Many do not approve of the Anti-Saloon League, but that is a personal matter."

The Rev. Henry Hyde, of Portsmouth, objected, declaring "we are asked to vote in a 'yes we have no bananas' manner."

He added that he believed in complete separation of church and state and that the Episcopal church can not "lend its support to political propaganda coming out of the Ohio Council of Churches."

The Rev. David Barre, of Columbus, said: "I object to the literature of the Anti-Saloon League being issued from the same office as that of the Ohio Council of Churches, and voiced strong opposition to the Episcopal church allying itself with the council."

In reply the Rev. Thomas Donaldson, of Columbus, said it "would be a disgrace to withdraw." But he was drowned out by shouts of "No! No!"

The question of controlling newspaper reports of the convention proceedings was brought up by Mr. Hyde, who said stories of Tuesday's debate were "detrimental to the best interests of the church."

"I am in favor of the appointment of iron-willed and strong-armed men to exercise control over newspaper reports of our convention," he said. This statement brought from the Rev. Allan Cooke, Springfield, the comment: "The only way to control the newspaper stories is to control your statements on the convention floor."

JAPANESE BOYCOTT CONSIDERED BY U.S.

Britain and America May Join in Bringing Pressure to Bear in Tokyo.

BY CHARLES M. MCCANN.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(UP)—Joint economic pressure upon Japan to halt its invasion of China is being considered by the United States and Great Britain, it was learned tonight.

Possibility of imposition of a boycott upon Japan has been discussed informally with Great Britain, whose attitude has not been made known. The efficacy of the boycott, it was pointed out, depends largely upon her cooperation.

Another alternative would be an embargo prohibiting importation of Japanese goods. This move, however, would require an act of congress, whereas the boycott could be accomplished without congressional sanction.

No provisions for such economic pressure are contained in any treaties to which the United States is a signatory power, however, it was explained, there is nothing in international law to prohibit such a move.

"Might Lead to War."
The boycott might take the form of restriction of passports to Japan and the co-operation of banking and business interests in restricting credits to and imports from that country.

Some letters have been received at the state department suggesting an embargo on Japanese silk. Chairman William E. Borah, of the senate foreign relations committee, refused to comment on the proposed boycott, asserting he would withhold comment until such action was called to the attention of the senate. Several months ago, however, when the League of Nations was discussing possibility of joint economic action in the Manchurian situation, Borah said publicly:

"A boycott would lead to war!"
Correspondence Given to Senate.
Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson took a preliminary step toward meeting the new, grave phase of the Japanese-Chinese crisis today when he forwarded to the senate full diplomatic correspondence on the Manchurian dispute.

Original sketches, ranging in emotion from hilarious humor to the dramatic, entertained a large audience which attended the presentation of Miss Frances Homer by the Student Lecture Association in Glenn Memorial auditorium Wednesday night.

Miss Homer, who is author of a number of successful plays and a former player in "A Doll's House" and "Daddy Long Legs," as well as a character in Shakespearean roles, rendered a number of sketches originated by herself, which were enthusiastically received by those present. The episodes presented Wednesday night were unique in that they were complete in themselves.

Appearance of Miss Homer was the second program of the current season to be presented by the association.

Germany's Payments
Reported by Flandin
PARIS, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Since the end of the war Germany has paid France reparations totaling $1,151,030,570 gold marks ($1,154,072,132). Finance Minister Pierre Etienne-Flandin informed the chamber of deputies finance commission in a report published today.

Of this sum M. Flandin said $1,165,144,947 gold marks (approximately $1,256,000,000) has been spent to repair actual war damages.

A recent compilation of reparations payments made in Paris showed, on the basis of figures of the reparations commission, that Germany had paid to all nations having a claim on her a total of $4,829,000,000, but that Berlin contended the total payments amounted to something like $9,119,000,000. These estimates included both cash payments and payments in kind.

German official sources in the United States about two weeks ago estimated that the French had received a total of 20,000,000,000 marks (approximately $4,800,000,000).

JOSEPHUS DANIELS RETURNS TO RALEIGH

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 24.—(AP)—Josephus Daniels, former secretary of the navy and publisher of the News and Observer, returned to his home here today after two weeks in an Atlanta hospital due to injuries received in an automobile accident.

"I'm certainly glad to be home again," he said. "I'm feeling better but not as spry as usual."

Mr. Daniels would not discuss political matters, assuring reporters he would have "something to say later."

The former secretary of the navy is being urged by friends to run for governor.

ST. PHILIP'S TO HOLD 'FEAST OF LIGHTS'

Bishop H. J. Mikell, of the Atlanta diocese, will officiate at the "Feast of Lights" to be celebrated at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon at St. Philip's cathedral, under auspices of the Order of the Daughters of the King. The festival, which is an annual Epiphany service, will be attended by Dean Raimundo de Ories of the cathedral, and other clergy of Atlanta Episcopal churches.

The celebration typifies the light of Christ as manifested to the Gentiles, and will be observed amid special music. It is at this service that the Daughters of the King make their offering which is known as the "self-denial fund," devoted to the support of women missionary workers in foreign fields.

The resolution was opposed by the democratic minority of 70. Four of the republican majority were not present.

MORTIMER WILSON PASSES IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Mortimer Wilson, 55, famous American composer and teacher of music, died today at his New York residence. He succumbed to complications following pneumonia a month ago. Wilson was born in Chariton, Iowa, and studied music in Chicago at the Conservatory and Musical College. He was first an instructor at the University of Nebraska. From 1912-15 he was in Atlanta, Ga., as director of the Atlanta Philharmonic, and later was guest conductor of the New York Philharmonic orchestra.

His widow, the former Hettie Lewis, of Chariton, Iowa, survives.

THEATERS TO DEFY MIAMI BLUE LAWS

Dade County Targets of Enforcement Drive Plan
To Be "Open as Usual."

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 24.—(AP)—Determination of two Dade county officials to enforce state "blue laws" passed in 1932 and in 1939 by closing all amusements and many business institutions on Sunday withstood today a barrage of pool-pools hurled by businessmen of the county.

The officials, Sheriff M. H. Lehman and County Solicitor Fred Pine, struck firmly to their statements that operators of movies, golf courses, filling stations, street cars, taxicabs, soda fountains and the like would be arrested if their businesses were operated between midnight Saturday and midnight Sunday.

Lehman declined to talk, other than to say that all laws will be enforced. Pine reiterated his statement that "opinionated persons and some daily and weekly newspapers" have forced law enforcement officers to a showdown on the question of a closed county or a liberal government."

Georgians Awarded Medals by Hero Fund

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 24.—(AP)—The Carnegie hero fund commission today recognized acts of heroism on the part of two residents of Georgia by awarding them bronze medals.

The recipients are George A. Blackstock, of rural route 6, Cumming, Ga., and Margaret F. Williams, of Oxford, Georgia.

Miss Williams, 14, a school girl, saved W. Herbert Dick, 15, a school boy, from drowning at Conyers, Ga., on May 24, 1930. While Dick was swimming in the Big Haynes creek, he got into distress in water 10 feet deep. After a youth had made a slight attempt to rescue Dick, Miss Williams swam in and rescued him.

Blackstock, 40, a farmer, saved G. Carl Jett, 40, a farmer, from suffocation at Cumming on August 5, 1930. Jett, overcome by fumes of exploded dynamite at the bottom of a well 43 feet deep, was revived after the rescue by Blackstock.

NEW ORLEANS POLICE NAB ATLANTA FUGITIVE

Walter O. Eden, Who Commandeered Kriegshaber
Car in Escape, Retaken.

Walter O. Eden, 26, of Atlanta, who escaped from the North chain-gang with James Wright, 23, on the morning of November 23, 1931, was arrested in New Orleans Wednesday night and held for authorities here, according to dispatches.

The arrest was made when he called at Charity hospital there to remove his wife, who was recovering from an accidentally inflicted pistol wound.

According to advices from New Orleans, Eden told police that he is known also as Jack O'Ryan, that he served his term here on a burglary charge and that when denied his freedom he escaped and took his wife to New Orleans with him. Records here show that he was serving a sentence for the possession of burglary tools and that on the morning of November 23 he and Wright, working on a rock crusher on the Cheesapeake Bridge road, fled in a county truck and later commandeered the automobile of Mrs. V. H. Kriegshaber, prominent Atlanta woman. They escaped still wearing their prison stripes. Wright was serving a two-month sentence for "loitering" and has never been apprehended.

Mrs. Eden, 23, according to press dispatches from New Orleans, was shot in the couple's apartment December 29, but she told officers that the pistol was accidentally discharged in her husband's hand and that the bullet struck her in the left breast. No action was taken against Eden.

Eden Wednesday night blamed his arrest on two telephone operators who, he stated, formerly lived in Atlanta, where they had visited his wife. He said they "kipped off" the Atlanta police.

PARENTS DECLARE RUTH JUDD INSANE

Retired Minister, Wife
Tell of Girl's Signs of Mental Deficiency.

BY RALPH O. BROWN.
PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 21.—(P)—Striving to save their daughter from the gallows, the aged parents of Winnie Ruth Judd testified in her murder trial today of a strain of insanity in the family and of signs of mental instability in the defendant.

Defense counsel informed the court they proposed to establish Mrs. Judd was insane on October 10, 1931, the day she is alleged to have killed Agnes Anne LeRoi and Hedvig Samuelson, the women whose bodies were shipped to Los Angeles in trunks.

The trial was interrupted by the illness of a juror during the afternoon. Adjournment was taken until tomorrow afternoon.

Herman Lewkowitz and Paul Schenck, defense counsel, produced depositions from eastern relatives of Mrs. Judd to corroborate testimony given by the Rev. and Mrs. H. J. McKinnell, the aged parents.

Mrs. Judd struggled to hold back tears when her father, a retired Indiana minister, told of his knowledge of insanity of his father's mother, his father's brother, his sister's son, of two second cousins of Winnie Ruth, and of "queerness" on the part of another cousin.

His wife told of the mental disorders of the two second cousins of her daughter.

Both parents related idiosyncracies of Winnie Ruth's childhood, including a fondness for dolls, fabrications regarding a "baby at our house," disappearances, once clad only in night clothing, and of her disregard of the difference between right and wrong when she was mad.

Depositions presented by the defense, with accompanying cross-interrogatories by the state, included statements from the Rev. A. F. Niswonger, of St. Francisville, Ill., great uncle of Winnie Ruth; Dora Peters, of Indianapolis, a second cousin, and Newell Wilson, of Toledo, Ill., great-uncle. They told of their knowledge of the death of George Wilson, one of Mrs. Judd's second cousins, in an insane asylum.

Terribly Disfigured by Eczema in Rash. Healed by Cuticura.

"My trouble began with a terrible irritation. Then eczema broke out in a severe rash on my face, arms and back. It smarted and irritated so much that I scratched and caused eruptions. My clothing aggravated the breaking out on my arms and back, and I could not sleep for about a week. I was terribly disfigured by it."

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample of each. I purchased more and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one large-sized box of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Lora Coyle, Golden Pond, Ky., Aug. 21, 1931.

SUSPECTED KIDNAPER COMMITTS SUICIDE

DENVER, Jan. 27.—(P)—Joseph Clinton Riley, ex-convict, shot and killed himself today rather than submit to arrest by a police squad which sought him as a suspected kidnaper of Benjamin P. Bower, Denver bakery manager.

Bower was held for ransom five days last week, but released without payment of the $50,000 demanded.

EDGEWOOD AVE. STORE IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

A dry goods store at 70 Edgewood avenue, N. E., owned by Joel Dorfman, of 436 Washington street, S. W., was considerably damaged by fire of unknown origin, discovered in the rear of the store shortly after 9 o'clock Wednesday night.

All downtown fire companies answered the alarm and traffic was congested as fire-fighting apparatus clogged all streets leading past the Hurt building, directly across the street from the fire. The major portion of the damage to the store was from smoke and water, it was stated.

INDIAN GIRL SLAYERS GIVEN LIFE TERMS

CALCUTTA, Jan. 27.—(P)—Sentences of imprisonment for life were imposed today upon Santu Ghose and Sanjay Choudhury, Indian girl slayers, following their conviction in a local court of the murder last month of C. G. B. Stevens, British magistrate.

MACHINIST SEES DOOM OF AKRON

Moffett Defends Biggest
Airship Before House
Naval Committee.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(P)—An opinion that the navy's flying fortress—the Akron—may be doomed to a repetition of the Shenandoah disaster because of hidden faulty materials today was placed before the house naval committee.

Continuing its investigation of the airship, the committee also heard the chief of the navy's aeronautics bureau, Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, reiterate his belief that the Akron is the best lighter-than-air vessel ever built.

He told how he thought she could defend herself from attacks on all sides, her five fast airplanes dashing into the fray and her 16 machine guns pouring explosive shells at enemy aircraft.

E. G. Davidson, of Mount Ida, Va., general secretary of the International Association of Machinists, presented the criticism.

He said two men who worked on the Akron—W. B. Underwood, of Madisonville, Tenn., and Lieutenant Colonel E. C. McDonald, a Washington, D. C., reserve officer—first brought to him the reports of defective materials.

Their complaints, Davidson testified, were turned over to the navy with a request that the names be kept secret because the men feared defective rivets.

Florida Girl Convicted As Bogus Fortune Teller

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(P)—Sonya Black, 26, of Brooklyn, was found guilty in West Side court today of pretending to tell fortunes and paid a $5 fine imposed by Magistrate Joseph J. Goldstein.

Miss Black is employed in a Gypsy tea room in West 50th street, Manhattan, and it was there, according to the charges, she not only "told" the leaves in the tea cup of Policewoman Mary L. Vaughan on January 10 but also predicted the future for her with the aid of a book the policewoman purchased in the restaurant for $1.

Miss Black said she formerly taught school in Florida, where her father is a county judge in Citrus county.

SUN LIFE OF CANADA CITES NEW RECORDS

The Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada made new high records in the volume of its business in 1931, according to a statement issued by the home office in Montreal.

Over $90,000,000 was paid to policyholders in 1931, bringing the total since the organization in 1871 to more than $590,000, the statement said. Assets are now well over the $600,000,000 mark.

The company's income for 1931 made a new record with nearly $200,000,000, which compares with $196,000,000 in 1930. Insurance in force passed the $3,000,000,000 mark, with over $500,000,000 of new insurance work.

being "framed, blacklisted" and possibly made "victims of bodily harm." After the investigation began, both were discharged, Davidson said, and the navy found no evidences of faulty work.

In the part of the ship where Underwood and McDonald worked, Davidson said, there were from 500 to 600 defective rivets.

ROAD BILL PASSED WITH CONVICT BAN

La Guardia Amendment
To Face Sharp Battle on Senate Floor.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The lower house today, in passing the agricultural department annual appropriation bill, retained the amendment by Representative La Guardia, of New York, prohibiting the various states from using convict labor on road projects built with federal aid highway funds.

Members of the Georgia delegation, who opposed the amendment vigorously, will carry their fight to the floor of the senate, where the bill is yet to be acted upon.

Defending the Georgia state highway commission for its practice in using convict labor, Representative W. W. Latham, of the twelfth district, today wrote the Georgia Road Builders' Association, of Atlanta, that it was in the best interest of the state to use such labor in its highway program. The association, headed by Johnston Deason, manager of Atlanta, had protested against the fight made by Mr. Latham and other members of the state delegation against the La Guardia amendment.

"The convicts are to be kept and maintained," said Representative Latham, and there is no better place to do this than on our public highways. I believe that the best interest of the state, the counties and the public will be served by permitting such contracts to be made, not only in Georgia, but throughout the country."

Power Company Sued For Mosquito Bites

GREENVILLE, S. C., Jan. 27.—(P)—W. E. Gossett and his wife are seeking $25,000 damages from the Belton Power Company for bites they allege were inflicted by mosquitoes that grew to adult life in the power company's lake.

Johnston Deason, manager of Atlanta, had protested against the fight made by Mr. Latham and other members of the state delegation against the La Guardia amendment.

"The convicts are to be kept and maintained," said Representative Latham, and there is no better place to do this than on our public highways. WRIGLEY WILL REST ON CATALINA ISLAND

AVAILON, CATALINA ISLAND, Cal., Jan. 27.—(P)—On this rugged Pacific isle, which William Wrigley Jr., and his millions transformed into a semi-tropical paradise where a $20-a-week clerk could afford a good time, the dynamic capitalist and sportsman will find his last resting place.

A mausoleum will be prepared on Wrigley's hilltop estate overlooking the sapphire crescent of Avalon bay to receive the body of the chewing gum magnate, who died yesterday at Phoenix, Ariz.

The funeral will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. from Wrigley's palatial home in Pasadena. After brief burial rites at All Saints' Episcopal church, the body will be placed in a vault to await completion of the mausoleum.

SCHOOL PAY HIKE SUSPENSION ASKED

Key Makes Suggestion on Eve of Financial Meeting Today.

On the eve of a compromise effort this afternoon to pull Atlanta from a quagmire of fiscal ruin to the stability of a balanced budget, Mayor James L. Key Wednesday suggested that kindergartens and automatic increases in salaries of school teachers be temporarily suspended because of the financial stringency which the municipality faces.

Councilman James L. Wells, chairman of council's finance committee, which recommended a blanket 10 per cent cut in all salaries, resulting in defeat of the January finance sheet, has called a special meeting of the finance committee for 3 o'clock this afternoon at the city hall. All members of council have been invited to attend, but the public generally will be barred.

Several proposed compromise measures will be studied by the committee this afternoon, one by Councilman G. Dan Bridges, of the third, who aided in blocking the salary cuts, suggesting that employees be given two and one-half days of vacation a month without pay to absorb the 10 per cent salary slash and thus obviate a pay reduction.

Members of the councilmanic bloc which successfully prevented passage of finance committee recommendations, held a meeting late Wednesday, but no definite agreement was reached, leaders said.

Both factions—those contending for the salary slashes and those opposing it—Wednesday expressed hope that some definite compromise may be reached at the meeting this afternoon and there was every indication that all parties will enter into the meeting with a general give-and-take spirit.

In the event of an agreement whereby the budget may be balanced, Mayor Key will call a special session of council Saturday afternoon or Monday morning.

Key described the conference between himself, Mrs. R. P. Cheshire, president of Atlanta Council I. T. A.; Mrs. A. A. Williams, Mrs. W. S. McDaniel, Mrs. J. Q. Hooper and Mrs. R. N. Clark as "amicable and cooperative."

"I told the ladies that council has nothing to do with board of education expenditures," he said. "I suggested, however, that all automatic salary increases be dropped. At this time, when cuts are necessary there should not be an increase in pay to anybody, under any circumstances."

"I suggested further that material savings could be made by reduction of the school department's business staff, and by temporary suspension of the kindergartens."

"The teachers should not be called upon to undergo greater salary reductions than those of other employees. Resolutions opposing any cut in allocations to schools which would cause curtailment in service and any slash which other departments of the municipal government are not forced to take were passed by the Highland Avenue Parent-Teacher Association, of which Mrs. J. C. Malone is president."

WELFARE BODY LAUDS FEDERAL RELIEF PLAN

Support for the proposed legislation providing federal relief for emergency distress conditions was voted Wednesday afternoon by members of the Atlanta Social Welfare Council. A committee of the council, which is composed of representatives of all social service agencies in Atlanta and DeKalb county, will be appointed by E. A. Thorndell, president, to seek active support for the pending relief measures by Senators Harris and George and Congressman Ramspeck. Details of the measure were explained by E. M. Kahn, secretary of the Federation of Jewish Charities, who pointed out that funds for human relief would be made available for states which show a need greater than can be ministered by available funds. Mr. Kahn urged preparation for Georgia's participation in the fund, if it becomes available.

THE JAPANESE ELECTIONS.
Results of the elections to be held in Japan in February to select the members of the new diet are certain to have a marked influence on the policy of that country in its controversy with China, both with regard to the Manchurian situation and the boycott which has led to the landing of Japanese troops in Shanghai.

The diet, which was dissolved on January 20, contained only 171 members of the Seiyukai party, from the leaders of which the present cabinet was chosen, while the Minseitō opposition party could muster 259 votes.

Should the new diet to be named by the 14,000,000 voters of Japan contain a materially increased number of Seiyukai members, then it is to be expected that the present stern attitude towards China will be maintained. Should the Minseitō party be able to return its present majority, it would be able to either force the cabinet out of office, or else effect such policy changes as it desired.

Both parties have outlined the platforms on which they will go before the people, and significantly both have put the soft pedal on the Manchurian situation. It is apparent that notwithstanding the undercurrent of dissatisfaction caused by the tremendous trade losses in China, neither of the parties is willing to take the risk of offending the militarists.

At least both base their platforms largely on remedies for the economic ills which are now afflicting the nation. The Seiyukai pledge to spend nearly $200,000,000 during the next five years on the development of roads, rivers and harbors and the government-owned railroads. Viscount Takahashi, one of the party's outstanding leaders, prophesies that with these expenditures and the fulfillment of the other platform pledges, "prosperity will return to Japan because domestic industries will be stimulated and foreign trade improved."

The Minseitō party promises the stabilization of exchange, extension of state insurance and unemployment relief. It is waging a heated campaign against the gold embargo, claiming that it was not necessary for Japan to go off the gold standard, and that as a result the whole nation is suffering for the benefit of a few capitalists.

THE DEPRESSION "COMPLEX."
Much of the slowing down of the wheels of business and commerce is attributed by the Manufacturers Record to a "depression complex" which it feels is strangely out of line with the facts of present conditions.

Discussing the unreasonableness of this attitude, the Record says: "Times have never been so bad that they did not improve. We have the history of the south following the Civil War to prove what can be accomplished. If ever a land was desolate, the south was. Its whole business structure was destroyed. But we have seen it come back to a point where its wealth and activity has far surpassed that of before-Civil-War days and in practically every line of endeavor it has equaled that of the entire United States some 30 years ago. Men who have been responsible for such a record of achievement are not easily discouraged, and that explains in part why the south has not been as pessimistic as some other sections while the country and the world work their way back to prosperity."

THE WORLD'S WINDOW
BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

College Degrees.
America, as we read in the newspapers, has reached the saturation point in the matter of college degrees. This is the opinion of Mrs. Mary R. Beard, the wife of a distinguished American scientist.

"There is a great deal of evidence," she said in an address before the American Women's Association, on unemployment, "that college education is not only negative but is a liability in the business world. Educated people cannot compete with the peasant and live too much by rule. History shows that the educated person has always been 'up against it' in a crisis, and that the peasant was the one to survive. The greatest contribution has been made by those without college degrees, contributions based on their humanitarian or imaginative qualities," she said.

Mrs. Beard urged the women to open up new fields of activity for their sex instead of competing with men. She suggested the field of housework, saying, "The housewife is the worst-worst person in the world. This latter sounds like a big exaggeration to anyone who is familiar with conditions in certain European countries."

Georgia Heroes Of the World War
By Sergeant L. E. Jackson (All Rights Reserved.)

MACON CALDWELL OVERTON, captain, 6th Regiment, U. S. Marine Corps, Division, American Expeditionary Forces, awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for extraordinary heroism in action with the enemy at Blanc Mont, France, December 2, 1918, and for repeated acts of extraordinary heroism in action near Blanc Mont. When his battalion was halted by severe fire, Captain Overton personally attacked and reduced one strong enemy machine gun nest, and moving forward, captured one field piece which was firing point blank at his company. He was wounded the next day, but he refused to be evacuated, and continued to lead his command with skill and courage throughout the engagement.

On October 8, after occupying St. Etienne without casualties in his company, Captain Overton went through the heaviest fighting of the war, leading his company under heavy artillery fire and silencing machine gun nests. He personally undertook to guide a tank forward against machine gun positions, and while so doing he was seriously wounded by a bullet in the chest, from which wounds he later died.

Residence at appointment, Union Point, Ga. Posthumously awarded the Medal of Honor to mother, Mrs. Margaret Overton.

Why Not Repair the Barns While Idle Men Wait for the Harvest
By Robert Quillen

There is no mystery about Russia's ability to provide jobs for everybody, nor does it indicate superior efficiency.

There was a job for everybody in America during the great war, and you will remember. Labor was scarce and wages high. Do you know the explanation? Because millions of men were called to arms and the nation set itself the task of building in two years the war machinery that others had built at their leisure.

Russia has worked for all of her own people and many others because she is spending $5,000,000,000 to modernize her army—trying to catch up and doing in five years the construction work that required 50 years and more in America.

It is the most gigantic building program ever undertaken by a nation. It provides jobs—at an average wage of $45 a month—but the jobs will be gone when the construction work is finished.

Health Talks
BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY

MAHATMA GANDHI HAD A GREAT FALL.
Ever since he first intimated that he might go to England, Mahatma Gandhi has been in the back of my mind. I had taken only a casual interest in him prior to that.

When the rumor was rife that the mahatma contemplated a visit to one of the United States my interest in the man bounded high. I began to lay tentative plans for an interview with the man himself. I wanted to see him, to hear him, to know something about the opportunity to put him through a regular physical or health examination. I believe several readers would like to know something about the physical health of the holy man. Anyway I would. Or rather, I thought I would.

force, Burke executed Gore but the supreme court later ruled that the contention of Gore's counsel was wrong, that Judge Dunaway was empowered by law, even though he served as a majority on the court, to execute prisoners or to carry out any official duty of either superintendent or warden.

ORDER REMAINS IN EFFECT.
However, the prison commission never has rescinded its order dividing the authority and today Dunaway is the superintendent of the state prison on farm and Burke is warden of the state prison. Burke at present is ill in a hospital and today Dunaway is nominally in command of the tubercular camp, is acting warden, still looking after the tubercular camp.

PRISON INADEQUATE.
That the prison property is wholly inadequate to meet the needs seems to be agreed, the legislature already having provided for a new prison building which will be ready as soon as it can be made ready for occupancy.

WHAT KIND OF FEELING EXISTS between Judge Dunaway and those in charge of keeping the prisoners here is not learned. However, the fact remains that while the judge was in charge, the institution had a record which was on a par with similar prisons and was, with authority divided, things do not run so well.

Uruguay Holds to Program Of Government Operation Second Only to Russia's

Uruguay has monopolized the refinement of petroleum and industrial alcohol and is preparing to manufacture cement in a government plant. These are not emergency steps to bolster national revenues in the present crisis, but the pursuit of a monopolization program begun 21 years ago. In this, first of three articles, an Associated Press staff writer traces the scope of government ownership and operation in South America's smallest republic.

CASH CROPS IS TOPIC AT FARM CONFERENCE

Round Table Discussion Features Day at Athens Meeting.

ATHENS, Ga., Jan. 27.—(AP)—A discussion of cash crops and how to improve production and marketing today occupied the farmers' conference at the State College of Agriculture.

J. William Florio, of the college marketing division, directed a round table discussion. Speakers included T. H. McClendon, Arthur Langley, G. H. Florio and C. G. Garner.

The speakers declared cash crops would prove an excellent cash crop if climatic conditions did not bring on overproduction and proper attention is paid to grading and standards.

Other crops such as melons, potatoes and peaches also received a share of attention from the conference. It was recommended that soy beans, lima beans, soy peas, and field peas be planted to follow cotton.

Flowers and decorative plants have brought cash to growers on the various curb markets of the state, speakers said.

J. F. Jackson, general agricultural agent of the Central of Georgia railroad, discussed transportation. He said he saw hope in the future for the railroads "in spite of all the horrid statistics I might quote you showing continuing losses, decreasing net earnings, and the large number of first-class railroads in 1931 that were obliged to materially reduce the entirely discontinuous payment of dividends on their capital stock."

J. K. Bedell advocated a six-hour day and work for all to end business troubles. He said farmers could improve their condition by diversification and living at home and the existing conditions would be improved by a gradual reduction of tariffs.

Miss Martha Berry, president of the Berry schools at Mount Berry, Ga., will deliver the principal address of tomorrow's session at noon. She will discuss "Educational Opportunities for the Youth of Georgia."

Mrs. S. V. Sanford, president of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, will speak on "Promoting the Use of Georgia Products."

REVENUE STAMP CASE INVOLVES 3 ROMANS

ROME, Ga., Jan. 27.—Indictments have been brought against three Roman men by the grand jury for receiving stolen goods, the goods being state revenue stamps which were stolen from a printing office and then sold here at a greatly reduced price.

The three men indicted were Coffield Seade, W. C. England, and R. L. Morris, the latter two being prominent merchants. It is charged that the stamps were brought over to Coffield Seade, a relative of the three men, and then sold to the local merchants. The three men Wednesday made bonds of $2,000 each. An indictment was also brought against L. B. Jolley, deputy sheriff at Shannon, charging the officer with extortion. It is alleged that Jolley, after arresting several persons, turned them loose and promised that they would not be prosecuted if they paid him. He received the money, according to the indictment, and no charges were made against the prisoners who "paid off."

Rev. Smith Will Speak On 'Cannibalism' in Macon

MAISON, Ga., Jan. 27.—(AP)—Rev. J. Smith, minister of Sparta, who was suspended by the church on unannounced charges, said here today he would speak at the city hall auditorium Saturday night on "Cannibalism and Its Results in Three Years in Church and State."

J. Ellsworth Hall Sr., prominent Macon lawyer, will preside at the meeting and Mr. Smith will be introduced by the Rev. T. M. Luke, pastor of the First Christian church, here. There will be no other speakers.

ENFORCEMENT OF LAW ON TRAFFIC IS URGED

ROME, Ga., Jan. 27.—Urging strict enforcement of all laws regarding the driving of automobiles by persons under 16 years of age, the operating of "one-eyed" cars and those without any tail light, the January grand jury of Floyd county made its presentments in open court this afternoon.

The jury asked that all officers put these laws in force immediately in an effort to prevent the recurrence of any tragedy like the one on New Year's Eve night in which two pedestrians were run down and killed by an unknown automobilist.

The grand jury also urged the improvement of the Rome airport, stating the neglect of this institution would be detrimental to the welfare of the community and urged civic clubs and other organizations to further the movement for the airport's improvement.

The jury heartily commended the work of Mrs. Alex Harris, juvenile court officer, and recommended that the juvenile court, which was recently abolished by a decision of the state supreme court, be recreated as a Floyd county institution.

BOSTON, Jan. 27.—(UP)—Morris Levine, booking agent for Boston cabarets, has been sentenced to 14 months in jail today for assault upon Joan Lowell, author of "The Cradle of the Deep" and now reporter for a Boston tabloid newspaper.

During her investigations she posed as an unemployed dancer and met Levine, took her to his apartment, she said, and attempted to attack her. She secured release from the apartment only by inviting him to her own flat.

When Levine arrived there police men were waiting in the apartment and arrested him when he attempted another attack.

'Pa' To Quit Miami Promotions

HE WILL DIRECT W. L.'S FIGHTS; MAY COME HERE

Confirms Dempsey Bout Here in Latter Part of March.

"Pa" Stripling has decided to abandon plans for a heavyweight fight show in Miami this winter, due to unfavorable conditions and lack of interest, and may pull up stakes there soon, he indicated in an announcement to The Constitution last night.

Lack of interest and apparent lack of cash in Florida have about convinced "Pa" that this is a bad year in which to undertake promotion of bouts under Madison Square Garden auspices, and he is considering leaving shortly to devote his time to directing the comeback of his son, W. L.

NO BIG SHOW.

"There is nothing much doing here at present. I don't guess we will have any big show here this year—at least not in the near future," Pa stated in his announcement.

The elder Stripling plans to go to Chicago to second his son in his bout with Ernie Schaaf, February 26, should the bout go through.

He also may come back to Atlanta to help Max Abelson revive the fight game here.

"Pa" confirmed his previous statement to The Constitution that Jack Dempsey would fight here the latter part of March, and stated yesterday that the ex-champion positively would show here.

DEMPSEY ASSURED.

"I talked with Leonard Sachs last night, and he guaranteed to let me have Dempsey in Atlanta the latter part of March," Pa added. "He also sent his regards to his Atlanta friends."

"Pa" has two important bouts to watch now. Tonight Battling Bozo, his light-heavy charge, faces the negro, Billy Jones, in a Chicago elimination bout, and then comes the Stripling-Schaaf fight.

"Pa" also is casting around for a match for Clyde Chastain, his new light-heavy, and may exhibit him in Atlanta, either on the Dempsey card or in a main go.

Certainly the business is perking up a bit here, judging from Pa's recent show of interest.

ber of rookies on the roster who cannot be more than a year away from Southern league pastimes," he added.

Some of them are just about ready to step in now, and these include Jimmy Cummings, young outfielder, who should do well this year if his old football knee doesn't give him trouble.

Frank Mock, the cotton-haired infielder, is another. Mock is the same type of ball player as Little Rock to the Cardinals. He is quiet but a good workman.

"Due to the fact that we didn't get organized in time to get in on the December trading market, we have decided to bring in the entire roster," the business manager stated.

Ross is considering making out contracts the last of the week, although he usually waits until February to avoid excess dilly-dallying around on terms. He has so many duties, however, that he would like to get the matter of contracts over with.

FIGHT LOOMS.

A merry fight may develop over the first base job with the Crackers, it seems. It would not be at all surprising to see none other than Manager David Irenas Barron competing for the job. "Red" is fast and good on ground balls, since there is a surplus of outfielders, he may go to the first base.

Since Barron intends being a playing manager, first base would be a good position from which to direct the club and he would be close to the inner workings and the battery.

There are others who may try for that job. There is Björn, a great fielder who is already signed. Roetz may be tried there because of his hitting and so may Johnny Cummings, who can play first base and one of his O. K. Roy Carley, if he could get down a little better on ground balls, would be a big help there because of his batting punge.

Carley is busy getting in shape, and thinks he will be somewhat faster this year. No one can tell, however, which man will play there until Barron has had a chance to survey the crop and try out all hands.

The Crackers will employ no regular scouting staff this year, but Chick Ross has his own system of rounding up talent. "Chick" has a number of good baseball connections, and now has several youngsters spotted here and there who will be brought in as the club needs them.

DIRECTS AFFAIRS.

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—(AP)—John C. Schank again will direct the affairs of the Chicago Businessmen's Racing Association, which operates the Hawthorne track. Schank yesterday was re-elected president.

HYMN OF HATE.

(The new king cobra at the Bronx Park zoo.)

Into your lidless eyes I stand and stare,

Where, to your final breath,

But one fixed, set emotion lingers there

And that, O, King, is death;

Death and the very ultimate of hate

To all who cross your path,

Where the dread fangs of time nor tide will wait

To prove your deadly wrath.

Just five coiled yards of poison born to kill;

Your hooded head now sways

And those you reach may know no more the thrill

Of life's remembered ways;

Here courage of the bravest heart takes wing,

And terror finds its mate;

Your lidless eyes look into mine and sing

The ages' hymn of hate.

The Jungle Scout.

It is a long way from the Malay jungle to the Bronx zoo, and so Frank

Buck, a trader in wild beasts, felt in a way that he should call on some of his old friends.

Frank had a number of specimens scattered here and there, dating back more than 10 years. He had brought

Dr. Dittmars his first big king cobra, but that one had shifted off his deadly coil and this new king was even larger.

"Here," remarked Frank, "is the real heavyweight champion. If you don't think so, I'll bet all the money I ever saw that all the money in the world could not get Schmeling or Sharkey into the same ring with this big boy. Look at those legs—as an inch and a half long—and when they land, the referee doesn't have to start the count. The show is over;

every nerve in the body is twisted into an agony beyond belief.

"Here is the real killer—one of the few who needs no excuse to come for you any time or any place. And when he strikes he hangs on, pressing down until every drop of poison is in his victim's veins."

BAER CONQUERS FEAR OF KILLING OPPONENT

ORANGEBURG, N. Y., Jan. 27.—(UP)—Max Baer, California heavyweight, has conquered his fear of killing another man in the ring, he said today, and he will meet King Levinsky, of Chicago, at Madison Square Garden, New York city, Friday night, without thought of pulling his punches.

Baer, who is training for the fight at Gus Wilson's camp here, explained that fear has been his worst opponent, not only in the ring, but all of his 22 years.

"Something always seemed to happen to make me afraid," he admitted.

"Ever since I was a kid, it's been the same way. I was afraid of this and that. Just when I was getting confidence in the ring, Frankie Campbell died in San Francisco after a fight with me. It's been hard to get over that, but I've finally done it."

In August, 1930, Baer stood at a grave in San Francisco beside Campbell's weeping widow. Cold sweat dripped down his face as he as the first shovel of dirt tumbled on the coffin. He vowed then never to enter the ring again.

The exquisite hand-made christening robe of white silk mull, lace trimmed, worn by the baby, was also worn by her two brothers, John C. Grabbe Jr. and William Eugene Grabbe, when they were christened.

Mr. and Mrs. Grabbe moved to Atlanta five years ago from Chicago, and since establishing residence here they have become prominently identified with this city's social, civic and church life.

Hornbuckle, at 947 St. Charles avenue, at 8 o'clock. The proceeds will be used toward the expenses of this unit attending the national convention of the Ladies' Oriental Shrine in Philadelphia, Pa., in May, and where they will represent the city of Atlanta and Bhakti court.

To Serve Luncheon At Sterchi's

The ladies of Circle No. 1 of Lakewood Heights Methodist church will serve a benefit luncheon today from 11:30 until 2 o'clock in the Sterchi clubroom, on the fifth floor of Sterchi's, 116-118-120 Whitehall street, S. W. The price per plate is 35 cents. The public is cordially invited to enjoy a delicious home-cooked luncheon. The menu consists of choice of roast pork or roast beef, black-eyed peas, string beans, choice of potato salad or creamed potatoes, peach cobbler, hot biscuits and corn bread and coffee. Mrs. J. B. Edmondson and Mrs. Ernest Watts will be the official hostesses.

Alliance Francaise Will Meet Today

Alliance Francaise meets Thursday afternoon, January 28, at 3 o'clock at the Studio Arts building, corner Peachtree and Fourteenth streets. The hostesses will be Mrs. E. W. More, Mrs. Ellen Betty and Mrs. C. Robert Mitchell.

George Raffalovich will be the speaker and will continue the subject of French colonial possessions, which are being discussed this year in a series of six lectures. The topic for Thursday will be French Asiatic possessions, which include Indo-China, Siam and Cambodia. The Colonial Exposition in Paris has increased interest in these countries and the study of the art, literature, music and history of these peoples has made a program quite in line with things in France.

Music will be in charge of Miss Monelle Horton, who will play two piano selections, "Reverie Nocturne" by Debussy, and "Feux Follets" by Philippe. Two scenes from a three-act play, "La Jigne de Coeur," by Andre Bugue, will be given by Mrs. Hal Davidson and Olivier Vinour.

For Miss Bradshaw

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bradshaw entertain Friday evening, January 20, at the Atlanta Woman's Club in compliment to their daughter, Miss Virginia Bradshaw, who is a popular member of the student body of North Avenue Presbyterian school.

BABY FRETFUL, RESTLESS?

Look to this cause—

Does your baby have nights when he fusses, tosses and seems unable to go quickly, quietly to sleep? Look for one common cause, doctors say. A constipated condition.

(To get rid quickly of accumulated wastes which cause restlessness and discomfort, nothing is better than genuine time-proven Castoria.)

Castoria, you know, is made specially for children's delicate needs. It is a pure vegetable preparation; contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics of any kind.

It is mild and gentle enough to relieve a young infant's colic or pain, is an effective regulator for children of school age.

When your baby is upset and unable to sleep, has a little cold or fever, it is a wise precaution to give him the gentle but sure relief of Castoria. With regulation come relaxed comfort and restful sleep.

Keep a bottle always on hand. Children like the taste of real Castoria, which always has the name, Chas. H. Fletcher, on the package.

CHILDREN CRY FOR IT

PEG: Imagine it! A nice girl like Anne wearing her underthings a second day.

FRAN: And she's so dainty in other ways...

PEG: Of course, she's awfully busy—

FRAN: But our way is so quick and easy! It just floats out the perspiration acids and odors... why doesn't she

Protect daintiness this simple 4-minute way:

All day long underthings absorb perspiration. To avoid offending, dainty women wash them in Lux after every wearing. Lux is especially made to remove perspiration acids and odors completely, yet to protect colors and fabrics. And it takes only 4 minutes, or less!

LUX for underthings

Wash this 4-minute way:

1. One tablespoon of Lux does all one day's underthings—stockings, too.

2. Squeeze suds through garment, time twice, shake out.

Wash after each wearing for perspiration acids left in silk fade colors and rot the threads. With Lux it takes only a few minutes—less time than it takes to wash your face and hands.

Never rub delay lingerie with cake soap. Rubbing tends to break colors and weaken fabrics. Lux removes perspiration acids and odors completely—yet leaves colors like new. If it's safe in water alone, it's just as safe in Lux.

Don't use too-warm water. Lux gives instant suds in lukewarm water, won't fade colors or shrink fabrics.

LUX

Have You Tried LUX for dishes? No wonder! Lux works so fast...and keeps hands lovely, too! Costs less than 1¢ a day.

keeps them like new...in spite of frequent washing

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The appointment of William J. Filbert as chairman of the finance committee of the United States Steel Corporation, marks another promotion for a member of the late Judge Elbert H. Gary.

Associates of the former steel master said today that Judge Gary's appointment was a significant move in the company's financial policy.

Filbert, already a member of the finance committee and director of the company, has held the relatively minor office of controller.

DRISK RALLIES MADE BY GRAINS

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Table with 2 columns: Commodity, Price. Includes: Wheat, Corn, Soybeans, Oats.

WHEAT—Chicago, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Spurred by indications that Argentina would abolish her strange "Fiscal Precio" wheat tariff, grain values made brisk rallies today.

The "Fiscal Precio" is an Argentine trade method by which the price to be paid to a grain grower will be fixed an indefinite time after the grain is harvested.

Associates of the former steel master said today that Judge Gary's appointment was a significant move in the company's financial policy.

Filbert, already a member of the finance committee and director of the company, has held the relatively minor office of controller.

Associates saw in his new appointment an indication that Chairman Myron C. Taylor is broadening his operative ends of the steel business.

With James A. Farrell about to retire as president of United States Steel, more and more executive work is falling on the shoulders of Taylor.

Filbert is one of the highest salaried executives in the world and one of the best known. He has been with the steel company for 30 years.

He is said to be about 65 years old and has been with the steel company for 30 years.
